

Information about the opportunity and Children's Corps:

Are you interested in becoming a family therapist in New York City? Do you have a passion for social justice?

Children's Corps, a program of Fostering Change for Children, which aims to help children and families by creating positive solutions to challenges within the child welfare system, is recruiting MSW and MHC graduates for their Winter Class of 2021! All graduating students and alumni are eligible to apply. Previous experience is not required; Children's Corps provides a pre-service training and placement agencies provide specialized skill development in evidence-based models used with families.

Members of Children's Corps are offered a full-time position with salary and benefits at placement agencies throughout New York City.

This is an exciting time to join the child welfare field: across New York State and the country, more programs are adopting Evidence Based Models (see attached job description for details) in order to provide the most effective interventions for children and families. This is an excellent opportunity for recent MSW and MHC graduates to get specialized training and clinical supervision hours, while working to address some of the most pressing social justice issues facing children and families.

By joining the Children's Corps community, you join a growing network of talented and dedicated current members and alumni who contribute to a dynamic community of practice. Peer support is a key component to success in the field. Check out this resource from National Child Welfare Workforce Institute or these alumni testimonials from Michelle, Anna and Kaitlin, and Latisha for more about how this makes a difference.

You can apply here today. Children's Corps looks forward to reading your applications!
