Dr. Boaz Kahana Z"L ’55IBC. A lifelong student of classical Jewish Texts, Boaz saw the wisdom of the Rabbis in the analysis and treatment of psychological distress, whether caused by ordinary events or extreme trauma. Boaz was a regular at synagogue services and was a good friend to many fellow congregants. Boaz married Eva Frost, who was a Holocaust survivor and immigrant from Hungary. Together they raised two sons: Jeffrey b. 1967, and Michael b. 1969. Boaz collaborated with his wife, Eva, on many scientific projects. His sons followed in his footsteps, becoming professors. Boaz loved traveling and learning foreign languages and made friends wherever he went.

He also cared deeply about his many nieces and nephews, and their families. Donations in memory of Boaz can be made to the Friendship Circle of Cleveland, an organization that provides companionship and assistance to children with disabilities.
