

Hello and welcome to YUNMUN XXVIII and, more importantly, to the International Criminal Court

Here's a bit about us followed by a brief description of the function of the ICC.

Alyssa: My name is Alyssa Wruble and I'm a junior at Stern from Memphis, Tennessee. I'm majoring in Political Economy (a shaped major) and plan on going to medical school after I graduate. This is my second year on ICC (last year I was Legal Counsel for the ~winning~ Prosecution team) and my fourth time overall at YUNMUN. Back in high school, I was in other committees, but now that I've gone ICC, there's no going back. If you don't know it already, you'll see in February why ICC is the best committee. I look forward to meeting you all soon!

Joey: I'm Joey Jubas from Detroit, Michigan and currently in my fourth year of YU. I am studying Math -- Computer Science and minoring in Physics (not suuuuper related to mock trial, but this is the best committee at YUNMUN). This is my second year chairing ICC, after spending two years as Legal Counsel. Looking forward to another amazing conference on the greatest committee!

The ICC is the permanent tribunal that investigates and moderates international disputes and criminal cases between nations, as outlined by the Rome Statute. Our committee functions differently than other committees at the conference. ICC delegates will have the opportunity to take on a role as a prosecutor, defense lawyer, or judge as they investigate an international crime, allowing them to explore all aspects of international law. Over the course of the conference, you will prepare for, and execute, a mock trial case that we will provide.

We are looking forward to meeting you all and watching the case unfold! Feel free to email us with any questions, thoughts, comments, opinions, or just to introduce yourself and say hello! You can reach us at YUNMUNICC@gmail.com.

Good Luck!
