

Hello and welcome to YUNMUN XXX and, more importantly, to the International Criminal Court

Here's a bit about us followed by a brief description of the function of the ICC.

Rachel: Hi my name is Rachel Rosenberg. I'm a senior at Stern College and majoring in political science. I'm from Charleston, South Carolina, but spending my eighth year away from home (so not sure how much I can claim those southern roots anymore). I love writing and reading, spending time outdoors, and cooking, but most of all I LOVE ICC! I'm pumped for my third year on this incredible council and can't wait to see the amazing trial y'all put on. Good luck and may the odds be ever in your favor.

Chezky: My name is Chezky Frieden and I grew up in New York before moving to Cincinnati a couple of years ago (the perfect blend between being a passionate in-towner and a nice out-of-towner). I went to Sha'alavim for two years, and am now a Senior in Yeshiva College doing a shaped major in Behavioral Economics. My legal experience includes interning for a judge, captaining the YU mock trial club, and working for three years on ICC. My passions include law, guitar, and Jewish education. I am super excited to meet you all in February!

The ICC is the permanent tribunal that investigates and moderates international disputes and criminal cases between nations, as outlined by the Rome Statute. Our committee functions differently than other committees at the conference. ICC delegates will have the opportunity to take on a role as a prosecutor, defense lawyer, or judge as they investigate an international crime, allowing them to explore all aspects of international law. Over the course of the conference, you will prepare for, and execute, a mock trial case that we will provide.

We are looking forward to meeting you all and watching the case unfold! Feel free to email us with any questions, thoughts, comments, opinions, or just to introduce yourself and say hello! You can reach us at jfriede2@mail.yu.edu or rbrosenb@mail.yu.edu.

Good Luck!
