

PROJECT OPEN

An outreach program for older residents of the Lincoln Towers complex on the west side of Manhattan.

Experienced Geriatric Social Worker (Part-Time)

Project Open is a non-profit agency that provides essential supportive, concrete and recreational services to seniors living in Lincoln Towers, an 8-building complex on Manhattan's Upper West Side. We are seeking an experienced geriatric social worker for a part-time position (2-4 days). The social worker conducts assessments of client needs, provides supportive counseling, provides information and referrals to other community providers, provides psychoeducation to clients and families, and supports group social and recreational activities. Salary range: $26-$52K.
