Workshops

The School-Clinical Child Psychology program sponsored an all-day workshop entitled, "Recent Developments in the Assessment of Children" with Dr. Jerome Sattler on October 23. More than X students, alumni and other professionals attended the program.

This workshop, is based on Dr. Jerome Sattler's latest book, "Foundations of Behavioral, Social, and Clinical Assessment of Children" Sixth Edition. Topics included [cyber]bullying, sports-related concussions, executive functions, LD, ADHD, autism spectrum disorders, other disabilities, functional behavioral assessment, and clinical assessment techniques and instruments

***

School-Clinical Child Psychology Program also sponsored "Understanding and Facilitating Adjustment of International Students to U.S. Psychology Graduate Programs", conducted by Wei-Chun Vivi Hua (GraduationYear), Psy.D, Myeong Jin Kim (GraduationYear), Psy.D and Jennifer Golden (GraduationYear), MA International Student and Scholar Advisor. Yeshiva University on December 10. More than X students, alumni and other professionals attended the program. Topics included the adjustment process of international students studying in U.S. psychology and facilitating healthy adjustment of international students to U.S. higher education programs.

This was the initial workshop in a newly developed diversity series that we will be sponsoring during the next three years ; one workshop each semester.