

Yeshiva University's Office of Student Finance (<http://www.yu.edu/osf/>) assists students in putting together a funding package through a variety of resources--grants or scholarships, loans and work study, which can help cover the cost of your education. Students seeking financial assistance from Yeshiva University who are U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens are required to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid \(FAFSA\). The FAFSA is also the application for the Federal Direct Stafford Loans and other federal programs. The Yeshiva University school code is 002903; campus code: 00. For more information, including the latest tuition and fees figures, please visit Yeshiva University's Office of Student Finance.

International Students

International students (non-U.S. citizens) who are interested in receiving a needs-based scholarship should complete the International Graduate Student Financial Aid Application \(PDF\) to determine their eligibility.

Scholarships, Fellowships, Assistantships and Grants

No additional applications are required for these, and accepted students are notified at the time of acceptance to Ferkauf. The Ferkauf Dean's Office determines scholarships.

Graduate School Research and Teaching Assistantships

Opportunities to work on research projects, aid instruction in the classroom and supervise a lab are available each semester. Since assistantships are chosen by the individual faculty member, students should consult directly with their adviser and program director.

Grant-Supported Research Programs

Ferkauf and Yeshiva University's Albert Einstein College of Medicine are both located at the Jack and Pearl Resnick Campus. Both the Ferkauf and Einstein faculty have ongoing grant-funded research programs that make paid research positions available to Ferkauf students.

Loan Programs

These programs, sponsored by both YU and the federal government, defer repayment of principal and accrued interest as long as students are enrolled at least half time.

YU Loan Program

This program offers $2,000 per year at 5% interest. Repayment begins nine months after students are no longer enrolled at least half time and typically is in repayment for 10 years. Eligibility is determined by financial need.

Federal Direct Stafford Loan Program (FDL)

Please refer to the Office of Student Finance's Web site for more information about this program.

Outside Scholarships and Financial Assistance

We've also compiled a list of outside scholarships and other financial assistance (PDF) that all students should review.

Additional funding sources are often available through programs funded by outside groups such as community centers, labor unions, women's organizations and fraternal and civic organizations. Students are encouraged to research possible external sources of funding for their education.

Renewing Your Financial Aid Package

Students must reapply for financial assistance each year. Since personal finances are subject to change, the Office of Student Finance continually works with students to assure the continuity of the student's education.

Ferkauf Student Scholarship Procedures

Complete the FAFSA

Complete the Ferkauf survey and return it to the school's dean. Surveys must be completed by May of each year for consideration.

Express your interest with your adviser, faculty or program director. Teaching assistantships are available only from faculty with positions slotted.

Processed FAFSA information is received by the Office of Student Finance Faculty and the Academic Standards Committee review FAFSA information and the needs of students and rank the order their recommendations based on need, academic standing and special circumstances

The Office of the Dean awards funds based on availability to recommended students.

(Note: scholarship funds are available at the beginning of each academic year and are awarded at that time for the entire year; funds may become available throughout the year and are distributed as received.)
